Acquisition and surrogate-model update (methods overview)

Model adaptation is optional and does not itself establish a revised scientific hypothesis.

Available strategies and training compatibility depend on the selected MLIP backend and accelerator environment.